A RESOLUTION to honor and commend the members of the 278th Armored Cavalry Regiment of the Tennessee National Guard for their meritorious service in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

WHEREAS, our nation was conceived by individuals who were willing to sacrifice their personal safety and concerns to ensure our individual and collective freedom, and the Volunteer State is especially proud to be the home of so many valiant men and women who have performed above and beyond the call of duty; and

WHEREAS, many fine and honorable traditions have arisen from the deep wellspring of honor and bravery possessed by Tennesseans, but there is no finer tradition than that which gave Tennessee its nickname; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of the "Volunteer State" have, throughout the years, willingly forsaken the comforts and securities of inaction by taking up arms against the enemies of this great Nation, risking their lives and leaving their loved ones behind to honorably safeguard the freedoms and liberties guaranteed to all citizens of these United States and vanquishing those who threaten our way of life; and

WHEREAS, established in 1887 by an act of the 45th General Assembly, the Tennessee National Guard is a dedicated collection of the finest men and women this State has to offer. Always vigilant and prepared for duty, the Tennessee National Guard has proven time and again its ability to protect fellow Tennesseans and Americans and those around the world in need of aid; and

WHEREAS, the members of the Tennessee National Guard selflessly serve with courage and gallantry and deserve to be recognized for heroism in the line of duty and model citizenship in our American society; and

WHEREAS, the brave men and women of Detachment I, Headquarters/Headquarters Troop (HHT), 2nd Squadron, 278th Armored Cavalry Regiment, headquartered in Rogersville, stand proudly as exemplars of the honor, valor, and commitment inherent in the Tennessee National Guard and, during their recent deployment in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, upheld the finest traditions of the volunteer soldier; and

WHEREAS, possessing a long and storied history, the 278th Armored Cavalry Regiment (ACR) was constituted on March 25, 1887, in the Tennessee National Guard as the Third Infantry Regiment; the official unit history has seven annexes to trace individual element history in paths back to different origins, leading to such prominent units as the 630th Tank Destroyer Battalion and the 775th Tank Destroyer Battalion of 1941; the 114th Coast Artillery Battalion of 1942; the 114th Antiaircraft Artillery Gun Battalion of 1943; the 728th Amphibian Tractor Battalion of 1944; the 765th Tank Battalion of 1946; the Third Battalion, 190th Armored Infantry Battalion of 1954; the 130th Heavy Tank Battalion of 1949; and the 176th Tank Battalion of 1954, all of which trace to units of today's 278th Armored Cavalry. The 278th is authorized three Presidential Unit Citations (for St. Barthelmy, Ubach, and Scherpenseel of World War II); the French Croix-de-Guerre with Silver Star (for Scherpenseel); a second French Croix-de-Guerre with Palm (for France); and the Belgian Fourragere (for Belgium and the Ardennes); and

WHEREAS, this regiment of over 3,000 soldiers was mobilized in June of 2004 in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom; the recent return of Detachment I, HHT, 2nd Squadron of the 278th to American soil marked the end of many months of active duty service; and

WHEREAS, the unit is organized for the specific purposes of reconnaissance, surveillance, and security; depending on factors such as mission, enemy, terrain, available troops, time, and weather, a Cavalry unit may be given one mission or several simultaneous missions. It must be organized, equipped, and trained for continuous combat operations on all types of terrain and in all weather conditions, and the Cavalry's firepower, mobility, and shock effect make it one of the Army's most flexible organizations; and

WHEREAS, throughout their exemplary term of service in Iraq, the men and women of the Detachment I, HHT, 2nd Squadron of the 278th ACR proudly carried forward and enhanced

this State's reputation for bravery and volunteerism as they battled terrorism and supported the establishment of democratic principles of government; and

WHEREAS, the outstanding men and women of the 278th ACR performed above and beyond their "Warrior Ethos," which states in part, "I will always place the mission first. I will not accept defeat. I will never quit. I will not leave a fallen comrade. I volunteer sir! Take charge!"; and

WHEREAS, the members of the 278th ACR have proudly upheld the ideal of the citizen soldier, an essential tradition of American society, and their courageous service stands as an enduring example of all the characteristics that have ensured the continued freedom of our nation and the preservation of its ideals over the course of our history; and
